Medical Device Insurance

Manufacturers and wholesalers trust Catlin to understand the product liability hazards arising from medical technologies coverage which many other Insurers find challenging.

The United States is a significant export market for many UK medical device companies. Catlin understands the product liability issues that can arise for firms selling into this hostile litigation venue and will respond with capacity for those clients demonstrating good risk management practices.

Catlin's Medical Devices policy is part of a commercial package approach. We provide product liability capacity of up to £5 million with excess limits available.

Coverage can be written for:

- Active and non-active implants such as stents, pacemakers and neuro-stimulators
- Diagnostic and monitoring equipment
- Electro-medical and imaging equipment such as electrocardiographs and scanners
- Surgical equipment
- Orthopaedic equipment such as knee prostheses
- Ophthalmic equipment

We welcome the opportunity to add further value by undertaking joint visits with you to your clients and/or prospects.
